The Memory

A decorative horizontal line with a wavy, scalloped pattern runs across the page. Below it is a wide, textured border with a fine, grid-like pattern, similar to the one at the top of the page.

Dedication

We, the class of fifty-three Wish to dedicate this annual, dear parents,
to thee;

We realize our debt we can never repay
And yet, we say "Thank you," in our own meager way.

You have given us courage through each trial and test
To meet each new challenge, and give it our best;

From the depth of our hearts, our gratitude flows;
Accept it, dear ones, for you our love
glows.

In the years to come, don't think we'll forget,
Though a life for ourselves is the goal
we have set.

Your smiling faces will be pictured in our hearts
And our spirits will be with you, though we may be miles apart.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. C.L. Brooks, Principal

To you, Mr. C.L. Brooks, we wish to express our appreciation for your help, advice and untiring efforts in the past nine months. Although we have hit some rough spots in our school work and club activities, you have always stood by ready to help smooth them out.

Words are inadequate to express our thanks, Mr. Brooks, but we hope that in some measure, these few words will tell you how much your presence has meant to us in our Senior year. As we go out into life, we shall endeavor to prove a satisfaction to you, rather than a disappointment. Your high standards will inspire us to set our own standards high.

We leave with you, our greatest wish, that you shall continue to accomplish much toward your goal. May you be as successful in the future as you have in the past, and as well loved in future schools as you are in Jakin.

Prophecy

by Frances Johnson

Dearest Mother,

Would you believe it? While I was spending the last week of my vacation in Jacksonville, so as to be near Hilda Ann (she is head nurse at St. Vincents' now) I learned that Margie was living nearby. She was married two years ago, and has a darling baby boy. When I visited her I was just in time to see Junior eat lunch.

On my way back to Atlanta I stopped in Macon to see Sara Jo. She teaches 4th grade. I spent the night with her and she gave me Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pace (our own Ann and Earl's) telephone number. They live in the suburbs of Atlanta.

Upon my arrival in Atlanta I called Ann and Earl. The telephone operator's voice sounded familiar. I later learned that it was Mary Ellen Williams.

After Mary and I were reunited she told me that two of our boys, none other than Renfro and James, were stationed out at Fort MacPherson. I immediately got in contact with them. Both are dignified 1st Lieutenants. They told me that J.W. was home in Jakin on furlough. He's a Captain now.

Oh, Jerry was by to see me yesterday. She teaches 3rd grade in Valdosta. We attended a revival at the Church of God last night and I was delighted to hear her husband deliver an inspiring sermon.

Jerry gave me Zerlene's address. She is doing secretarial work in Montgomery and has really been successful. I hope to see her soon, when she has vacation.

My job is calling and I have to leave you now.

Your loving daughter,
 Frances
